In December 2017, Uri Løvevild Golman came within inches of his life when he and his wife Helle were savagely attacked in a marketplace in Libreville, Gabon. What should have been the penultimate expedition of a 5-year project, instead became the toughest journey of them all.

It was love that led the Golmans to Africa, and love that saved Uri's life. As Uri continues his rehabilitation, the couple has founded an ambitious conservation project: the WILD Nature Foundation. Their journey is one that Montegrappa is proud to accompany and honour with a special, Solidarity Edition release.

Contrasting casing sections are carved from Montegrappite - an artisanal resin formulated exclusively for Montegrappa. Organic textures evoke the moods of Africa's Baobab tree and nature's beautiful imperfections.

A striking pocket-clip is both eye-catching and symbolic of the energy that drives the couple's mission. The Snowy Owl feather motif is inspired by a full-length tattoo on Uri's forearm and - a poignant symbol of his love for Helle.

A set of seven postcards accompanies each pen. Spectacular, high-quality images of fauna from each of the world's seven continents are elaborated with recollections and reflections from the photographers themselves.

Uri and Helle are an award-winning photography team, notorious for seeking out animals that are extremely difficult to find. Uri's book, Tiger Spirit, won WWF's Panda Book Award in 2011.

The WILD: Baobab Limited Edition supports the work of Uri and Helle Løvevild Golman, founders of the WILD Nature Foundation - a non-profit created to intensify their fight to rescue virgin habitats.

Montegrappa is a founding partner of the WILD Nature Foundation. Created in 2019, its goals are to document and advance the protection of the world's wild animals and nature.
